In six years, SCAN of Northern Virginia and the Allies in Prevention Coalition have honored more than 35 individuals across Northern Virginia for their commitment to protecting children and supporting families in our community. On April 2, 2008, the 6th annual Allies in Prevention Awards Luncheon was an especially important celebration because it also marked SCAN's 20th anniversary year.

Sponsored by the Freddie Mac Foundation and Verizon, this special event brought together more than 200 guests to honor the award winners and launch the 2008 Northern Virginia Blue Ribbon Campaign for National Child Abuse Prevention Month.

Keynote Speaker Ralph Smith, from the Annie E. Casey Foundation, was introduced by Renette Oklewicz, Senior Community Relations Manager for the Freddie Mac Foundation. ABC 7 News anchor Alison Starling presented the awards to this year's remarkable honorees. Special guests included elected officials, judges, community leaders and an inspiring group of resource providers and child advocates.
